Java SE 27 & JDK 27

Class InstantiationError

java.lang.Object
  java.lang.Throwable
    java.lang.Error
      java.lang.LinkageError
        java.lang.IncompatibleClassChangeError
          java.lang.InstantiationError

All Implemented Interfaces:

Serializable

```
public class InstantiationError
extends IncompatibleClassChangeError
```

Thrown when an application tries to use the Java `new` construct to instantiate an abstract class or an interface.

Normally, this error is caught by the compiler; this error can only occur at run time if the definition of a class has incompatibly changed.

Since:

1.0
